Rep. Rowe Named Chairman of Legislature's Regulations Review Committee

State Rep. T.R. Rowe, R-123rd District, Trumbull, has been appointed chairman of the state legislature's Regulations Review Committee. For the 2005-2006 term, Rep. Rowe is one of only two Republicans to be appointed chairman of a legislative committee. He also will serve as a member of the Judiciary Committee and the Select Committee on Housing for the next two years.

The Regulations Review Committee is responsible for assuring that state agencies adopt regulations to implement state laws are consistent with the legislature's objective.

"It is an honor to have been appointed chairman of Regulations Review. This is a very important and challenging assignment," said Rep. Rowe. "We will be working to assure that state agencies follow, but do not exceed, the bounds of the legislature's intent with regard to various state issues."

Representative Rowe is a former Trumbull Town Councilman, serving from 1995 to January of 1999. On the Town Council, Rowe was elected Majority Leader in 1997 and held that post until his departure in January 1999 to begin his term as State Representative.
